- ECMTB 2018: The 11 th European Conference on Mathematical and Theoretical Biology (ECMTB 2018) will be held in Lisbon, Portugal, from 23 to 27 July, 2018. The template for abstract preparation is available. The ECMTB 2018 Organizing Committee is setting up a Mentorship Program to facilitate research and career interactions between junior and senior scientists attending the meeting. Participants of ECMTB 2018 can sign up to be part of the mentorship program, either as a mentee, a mentor, or both. If you wish to participate in the Mentorship Program at ECMTB 2018, please fill in the REGISTRATION FORM not later than May 10th, 2018. You can find more information about the ECMTB 2018 Mentorship Program here.
- The IPC for ICMI Study 24 School Mathematics Curriculum Reforms: Challenges, Changes and Opportunities invites submissions of contributions of several kinds which include: research papers related to school mathematics curriculum reform issues; theoretical, cultural, historical, and epistemological essays (with deep connection to curriculum reforms); discussion and position papers analysing curriculum policy and practice issues; synthesis and meta-analysis reports on empirical studies; reviews of curriculum reform efforts, especially at macro levels; and papers on comparative studies in curriculum reform initiatives.
 - Authors must select one theme from among the five described in the ICMI Study 24 Discussion Document to which their paper must be submitted.
 - Authors are expected to consider the questions listed below each theme in the Discussion Document in making their decision to submit papers.
 - To ensure a rich and varied discussion, participation from countries with different economic capacity, and different social, political and cultural heritage and practices is encouraged.
 - The IPC encourages people who are not familiar with such conferences to submit early and request assistance for finalising their contribution (by 28 February, 2018 - this ICMI Study 24 Discussion Document assistance concerns the choice of the paper topic, theme or structure, not the editing of English language). In this way, the IPC supports a tradition of helping newcomers to the international mathematics education community.

- An invitation to the conference does not imply that a formal presentation of the submitted contribution will be made during the conference or that the paper will appear in the study volume published after the conference.

Submission:

- A template for the submission of papers is available on the ICMI Study 24 website: <http://www.human.tsukuba.ac.jp/~icmi24/>
- Papers prepared in English (the language of the Study Conference) according to the template and a maximum of 8 pages must be submitted by the deadlines set out below.

Deadlines:

- 30 April, 2018: Submissions must be made online no later than 30 April, 2018, but earlier if possible.
- 30 June, 2018: Papers will be reviewed, decisions made about invitations to the conference, and notification of these decisions will be sent to the corresponding/main author by the end of June.

Information about registration, visa application, costs, and details of accommodation may be found on the <http://www.human.tsukuba.ac.jp/~icmi24/>.

- The Aga Khan University (AKU), Institute for Educational Development East Africa is organising the fifth Africa Regional Congress of ICMI on Mathematical Education (AFRICME). The AFRICME was launched in 2005 and aims to offer a forum for mathematics educators throughout Africa. This event will take place at the AKU campus in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania from August 29-31, 2018.
- The 6th HLF will take place from September 23 to 28, 2018 (with young researcher registration on September 22). This prominent, versatile event combines scientific, social and outreach activities in a unique atmosphere, fueled by comprehensive exchange and scientific inspiration. Laureate lectures, young researcher workshops and a structure welcoming unfettered discussions are the elements that compose the Forum's platform. Over the course of the week-long HLF, young researchers will be given the exclusive possibility to profoundly connect with their scientific role models and find out how the laureates made it to the top of their fields. All applications that are completed and submitted by the deadline are meticulously reviewed by an international committee of experts to ensure that only the most qualified candidates are invited. There are 100 spaces available for each discipline of mathematics and computer science. All applicants will be notified by the end of April 2018 whether or not they will be invited. For questions regarding requirements and the application process, please contact Young Researchers Relations at: yr@heidelberg-laureate-forum.org
